

Typical Uses

- Executive coordination – allows senior managers to reach groups of staff at field locations, central offices, in their cars or wherever they are.
- Facility closures – broadcast messages to staff at work, home or while traveling to notify them of facility closures, weather delays, or urgent situations.
- Fast response – coordinate quickly with sales, maintenance, engineering, shipping and customer care to react to requests and sales opportunities.
- Communicate with dispersed teams to shorten response times and increase productivity.
